

Teacher Training

Our 2-hour in-school teacher training workshop adopts the frameworks of humane education and social and emotional learning (SEL), focusing on the teaching of respect and responsibility for all living beings and the environment. The training provides teachers and school administrators with the skills and resources to teach about the interconnectedness of the most pressing issues that impact all life, and to equip their students with the knowledge, tools and motivation to develop solutions for a better world for all. This training workshop is ideal for whole school staff development.

The training workshop will address the following questions:

- ♥ In what ways is our current education system failing our children?
- ♥ What is humane education? Why do we need humane education in our schools?
- ♥ The core principles of humane education
- ♥ How do we infuse humane education into our everyday teaching?
- ♥ How do we implement a humane education culture outside the classroom?
- ♥ How do we cultivate a culture of compassion within and beyond the classroom?

In-school Workshops for Students

We offer various age-appropriate, in-school workshops for college secondary school and primary school students, including:

- ♥ News literacy & critical thinking
- ♥ Human dignity & non-discrimination
- ♥ Systems thinking in everyday decision making
- ♥ Animal & wildlife protection
- ♥ Ethical travel - what does it mean by travelling responsibly
- ♥ The MOGO Principle - how to live a life that does the most good and the least harm to other people, animals, and the planet
- ♥ Mental wellness & mental health first aid
- ♥ Laughter Yoga

Trainings and workshops are facilitated by certified instructors, and can be conducted in either English or Cantonese.

The only humane education organization in Hong Kong

Let's build a more just, humane, and sustainable world for all life through education!

Our Mission

Our mission is to inspire a culture of compassion, respect, and responsibility for all people, animals, and the planet through humane education.

Our Vision

A global community that is compassionate and socially conscious, where young people not only care for their own achievements and happiness, but also the well-being of others, animals and the environment. A world where compassion is valued and transformed into forces that effect sustainable and positive social change.

Our Approach

Our work equips young people with the ability to acquire accurate information about interconnected global challenges, to think deeply using systems- and critical thinking skills, to make compassionate and responsible choices, and to collaboratively engage in finding solutions to the challenges.

What We Do

Mini Acts for the Greater Good is the only educational organization in Hong Kong that embraces humane education as one of the most holistic education frameworks. We offer a wide range of values-based learning workshops for students and humane education training for teachers in Hong Kong schools. We also run campaigns, projects, and organize events in the areas of social justice, animal protection, and environmental sustainability.

Through service-learning, we also actively contribute to environmental sustainability, as well as the empowerment of and advocacy for vulnerable populations.
